

Pablo Canevari Award for Shorebird Research and Conservation

NOMINATION FORM 2026

Pablo Canevari was the first Executive Director of the Western Hemisphere Shorebird Reserve Network (RHRAP/WHSRN). Pablo was a respected colleague, scientist, illustrator, and a dear friend to those who knew him. This award, in his honor, seeks to recognize and support the exemplary work of an individual or organization in Latin America and the Caribbean in the conservation of shorebirds.

Every two years, during the meeting of the Western Hemisphere Shorebird Group, Manomet Conservation Sciences presents a USD $2,000 award to an individual or organization from Latin America and the Caribbean that has demonstrated a strong commitment to shorebird conservation.

To nominate an individual or organization for the 2026 Pablo Canevari Award, please complete the nomination form and send it to whsrn@manomet.org by June 15, 2026.

TYPE OF NOMINATION (mark an "x" by one):

Individual: Organization:

Nominee's Complete Name:

Mailing Address:

Telephone: E-mail:

Website:

If nominee is an individual, please also include the following:

Organization/Affiliation:

Title or position:

If nominee is an organization, please also include the following:

Name of Leader:

Title or Position:

NOMINATION SUBMITTED BY:

Your Complete Name:

Mailing Address:

Telephone:

E-mail:

Organization/Affiliation:

Title or Position:

- 1- What is the type and nature of the work that the nominated individual or organization has conducted in relation to shorebirds? Please include the dates of the work, its location, background, and outputs or results.

- 2- What is the importance or value of the work of the nominated individual or organization for shorebird conservation? Please include details on the benefit(s), progress, and/or impact achieved.

- 3- How has the work of the nominated individual or organization been shared with other researchers or organizations, and what is the value of this work for those audiences? Please include the names of the beneficiaries, the improvements or advances achieved, and any future plans resulting from the work.